INTERESTING SESSION AT SHELBYVILLE

The Second Annual State Farmer's Institute Convened February 26th, 1907
At Shelbyville

TWO HUNDRED DELEGATES PRESENT.

The second annual State Farmer's Institute convened in Shelbyville Feb. 26. About two hundred delegates representing nearly every county in the state were present. A large intelligent, prosperous looking body of men would be hard to find among the representatives of the profession in the state. Not a provincial haze of the comic paper, but wide awake energetic men who are combining modern business methods with scientific agriculture and are putting Kentucky where it is and ought to be in the front rank as an agricultural state.

The first day was taken up primarily by enrollment of members, posting addresses, etc. The evening session had some interesting addresses by Joseph E. Wing and C. C. Williams, of Ohio.

At the second morning session there was an election held to fill two vacancies on the board of Agriculture, Forestry and Immigration in the first and third districts.

In discussing a resolution as to the manner of holding the election a lively tilt occurred between Senator Newman and Commissioner Vreeland as to who originated the bill. The farmer's institute, though looked pretty squarely for awhile and the daily papers in describing it did not do the affair justice in any means. However, it was all settled pleasantly with honors about equally divided.

Of the eighteen counties composing the first district only five were entitled to take part in the election. Owing to the irregularities in the credentials of the delegates from the others. Those that voted were Boone, Crittenden, Livingston, Christian and Trigg.

The delegate from Crittenden was instructed to support G. N. McGraw, of Livingston county, who was elected on the fourth ballot over Walker, of Christian, and Igleheart, of Boone county.

The main feature of the afternoon session was the scoring of The Lady Mary the champion Jersey cow of Kentucky, by Dr. Seovel, director of the experiment station. The score being ninety six, which Mr. Seovel stated was the highest he had ever given and put her in his opinion the champion of America. There were three other cows scored. They were all brought on the stage of the Crescent Opera House when the institute was held.

One of the most enjoyable features of the meeting was a banquet given the delegates by the Commercial Club of Shelbyville on the evening of the 27th. The tables were presided over by forty blue grass girls. Several toasts were responded to and the evening closed by the singing of My Old Kentucky Home. The delegate from Crittenden felt a little short in the matter of oratory, but made it up by doing ample justice to the delicate viands set before him.

Another pleasant feature of the gathering was the drives given the delegates over the turnpike roads through the blue grass farms of Shelby county.

The State Institutes are held under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture and have no connection, whatever, with the tobacco associations or American Society of Equity as some seem to think.

However, it developed that the delegates were in sympathy with that amendment and passed a strong resolution endorsing it, which passed without a dissenting vote.

Edgie Gregory Sr. Dead.

Mr. Edgie Gregory Sr. died at his home one mile from Dyessburg, Thursday, Feb. 28th, 1907. He was 67 years of age and had been ill about a week. He is survived by three sisters Mrs. J. R. Finley of this place, Mrs. Closs Linley of Atchison, Kan., Mrs. J. A. Caldwell of Atlanta, Ga. His wife, who is the sister of George and Sam Yancey of Dyessburg and five children, Claud, Edgie Jr., Chorley, and Lacy. Interment took place at Dyessburg Friday afternoon at five o'clock his death came as quite a shock to his family and community.

LaRue-Hill.

On Wednesday of last week Mr. Otis LaRue, of Sheridan, and Miss Ada Hill, of Chapel Hill, left on the noon train for Princeton where they were married. They were accompanied by Miss Elva Hill and Fred Hill, sister and cousin of the bride.

Mr. LaRue is the son of Mr. L. A. LaRue and is an energetic young farmer.

Miss Hill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hill and is an attractive young lady. She has been one of the county's best teachers.

The happy young couple returned on the 1:27 o'clock train and left immediately for the groom's father, where they were entertained at supper.

The RECORD-PRESS joins their host of friends in wishing them a long and happy life.

Speaking.

At Boaz school house Tuesday night March 12th, by J. N. Robinson in the interest of the American Society of Equity.

AGED LADY PASSES AWAY FROM EARTH

Mrs. Rebecca Farmer Died at Her Home
Friday Morning March 1, 1907 at the Age of 87 years

LEAVES A HOST OF RELATIVES

Mrs. Rebecca Farmer aged eighty-seven years died Friday morning, March 1, 1907, at her home in the neighborhood of the Old Jim mines. A few years ago she sold the mineral right on her farm to the Henderson Syndicate, retaining only her homestead during her lifetime.

She is the mother of Henry Farmer, of Repton, Joel Farmer, of Marion, W. C. Farmer, of Cave-in-Rock, James Farmer, Miss Delia Farmer and Mrs. Doc Franks, of this county and Mrs. Jane Hamilton, Mrs. McMaster and Mrs. Martha Clark, of Tolu.

Interment Saturday at 1 o'clock at the home place.

Ollie James' Victory.

We congratulate Congressman Ollie James on his victory for a three-cent street railway fare in the District of Columbia. The Republicans House of Representatives stood for his amendment to the terminal street car bill, which was carried by a vote of 159 to 83. As the Republican majority in the House is 112, the James measure received a heavy Republican support. That able and resourceful Republican, Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, took strong ground in favor of the James amendment.

We believe in justice to all railroads and other corporations, but a three-cent rate in a city like Washington is ample for all ends. It pays all investments, provides for dividends, reserve funds and improvements. The Federal government should do all in its power to make Washington a desirable place to live in. The national metropolis is a place of magnificent distances. The street car comes into the daily needs of nearly all its inhabitants. The fare should be placed within reach of all. Visitors in thousands flock from all directions to Washington. No man can visit the National capital without coming away a better American. Desirable is it, therefore, that the city of Washington should be made an inviting place for visitors. The three-cent car fare will help to that end.

But the James amendment will have a far-reaching effect on the country at large. It will show street railway corporations that the more they seek to serve the public, the closer they get to the public heart, the surer they win the popular approval, the better for their material interests. It will suggest to the public that fair dealing with corporations is the best policy. The American people are unalterably opposed to confiscation, and in most cities the feeling against public ownership is very pronounced. If the people desire good service from their corporations they should use the latter justly, if firmly.—Louisville Daily Herald.

A Splendid Official.

Sheriff J. F. Flannery has filed his settlement of collections of state, county and railroad taxes, amounting in all to $30,269.91. Of this the state tax amounted to $14,828.70. The county tax to $12,968.37. The railroad tax to $2,472.84.

This settlement breaks all records that we have heard of by its promptness, and was done without borrowing a cent of money. We are informed.

Della is a courteous and kind-hearted man, but firm and unflinching in his official capacity, which is the best for everyone he deals with, as well as himself and his bondsmen. What we all need is someone to make us do our best.

A Service Pension Bill.

A service pension bill has been passed by Congress, under which every honorable discharged veteran of the Civil War who served as much as three months is entitled to receive a pension of $12 a month at the age of 70, and of $20 a month at the age of 75. A provision giving a survivors of the Mexican War a pension of $20 a month was incorporated in the bill. The commissioners of pensions estimate, that the bill will retail an additional expenditure of about $15,000,000 for the first year.

CHURCH NOTES

The meeting at the Baptist church closed Sunday night. Rev. W. D. Powell left Saturday. There were twenty-five additions to the church and a number of professions. There were splendid congregations at every service and every one seemed to enjoy the sermons preached by Dr. Powell.

Rev. J. W. Flynn will preach at the Christian church Sunday morning and evening. His subject in the morning will be "Why Christ Came" and in the evening, "The Family of God." Everybody invited.

Brick Yard Deal.

Edward Jones and Oliver Hurley, his son-in-law, both of Sturgis, have purchased the brick yard property of Hurley & Taylor for a consideration of $1200. They will operate it on a large scale the coming season and will probably increase the output.

JAMES FOR LEADER

Our Congressman Named for Minority
Leader of House.—Due to His Success On The Three Cent Fare Bill

Washington, March 4.—Hon. Ollie James was strongly tipped today as a possible candidate for the Democratic leader of the house in the sixtieth congress.

James admitted that several representatives had broached the subject to him on his success in getting the three-cent fare bill thru the house Saturday night has started the boom for him.

ROYAL Baking Powder is indispensable to the preparation of the finest cake, hot-breads, rolls and muffins.

Alum is used in some baking powders and in most of the so-called phosphate powders, because it is cheap, and makes a cheaper powder. But alum is a corrosive which, taken in food, acts injuriously upon the stomach, liver and kidneys.

FRANKS FOR GOVERNOR.

His Closest Friends Say That He Will Probably be Candidate For Nomination.

The candidacy of E. T. Franks, Collector of Internal Revenue at Owensboro, for the Republican nomination for Governor is not a joke, according to the statement of Fred Van Rensselaer at the Seelbach last night. Mr. Van Rensselaer has been appointed postmaster at Owensboro and has been a power in Daviess county Republican politics for twenty years. During most of that time he and Collector Franks have been close personal and political friends. In fact it has been openly said that the two men have run things to suit themselves in Daviess county for many years.

Mr. Van Rensselaer made bold to assert that E. T. Franks was the strongest man except former Gov. Wm. O. Bradley that the Republicans could nominate. He also made a statement that if Collector Franks could secure the nomination without a hard struggle or fight that would engender bitterness he would make the race. It was intimated that W. J. Deboe, former United States Senator, would support Franks when it came to the choice between Franks and some other man. Mr. Van Rensselaer seemed to be against the candidacy of A. E. Willson.

"Ed Franks is the logical candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket," said Mr. Van Rensselaer. "He has been the most successful politician in the State and a man on whom all the factions of the party can unite. A. E. Willson would not make near the race that Ed Franks would should he be nominated. Willson cannot carry Louisville in an election and Franks can, in my opinion. Ed Franks is the best campaigner in the State, and if he is nominated he will make things hum from one end of the State to the other."

"With Gov. Bradley out of the race—and he says that he is—Ed Franks is the man. The Democratic papers over the State are making light of the candidacy of Ed Franks for Governor from the fact that they don't want him nominated. The Democratic editors over the State know he would make a formidable race and for that reason they want some other man nominated."—Courier-Journal.

Beware of Remedies for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. IN MEMORIAM

Sarah Jane McConnell, familiarly called Sallie, was born in Crittenden county Ky., Sept. 14, 1891. She was the daughter of Thomas J. and Sallie McConnell.

She was born and reared on the old homestead near Iron Hill. She spent her days of childish glee in the sweet old home where the entire family was reared. She spent six or eight years of her childhood life in attending the district school at Olive Branch. Here under various teachers she threaded her way thru the primary and elementary text-books, mastering their contents as she went. While going to Miss Maud Gill at Olive Branch, she had a hard attack of diphtheria and for awhile had to relinquish her studies. After her parents removed to Marion, she attended the Graded School at this place until her affliction closed her school days.

She professed religion at Sugar Grove when twelve year old in a meeting held by Rev. W. T. Oakley. She never joined the church, but told her sister during her affliction that she aimed to join the C. P. church, here at Marion where she attended Sunday School. She was a faithful Sunday School scholar. She first attended the Sunday School at Sugar Grove. After the family removed to Marion she was a regular attendant at the C. P. Sunday-School. She never wanted to miss Sunday-School. After she became afflicted, the tears would come in her eyes when she heard the Sunday-School bell and realized that she could not go. Oh, that others, who are careless about attending Sunday-School would take this lesson in heart, life is too short to filter it away in carelessness.

Sallie was a great sufferer, for months she bore the most excruciating pain. Seldom have I seen one suffer more severely, or bare suffering patiently. She believed very much in prayer. Often in her extreme sufferings she would call upon mother or sister to pray for her. Every thing was done that could be done for her relief, so far as human eyes could see both by the attentive family and faithful physician. But death came and snuffed the frail thread of life asunder. Death came and kissed her sweet life from earth to heaven Feb. 5th 1907.

The funeral services were held in the C. P. church conducted Rev. J. F. Price and W. T. Oakley. Her remains were laid away in the new cemetery to await the dawn of the resurrection days.

But she has left her testimony behind. She told her mamma that she was not afraid to die. She wanted to live as is natural for those in the bloom of youth, yet she was ready to go if the Master called.

She died in beauty! like a lay

Along a moonlit lake;

She died in beauty! like the song

Of birds amid the brake.

She lives in glory! like mighty gems

Set round silver moon;

She lived in glory like the sun

Amid the blue of June.

James F. Price.

JOE BLACKBURN TO HELP BUILD CANAL

President Roosevelt Appoints Retiring Kentucky Senator to a Position on Isthmian Commission

ENGINEER STEVENS RESIGNS HIS PLACE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—The President has decided to appoint Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky, a member of the Isthmian Canal Commission. That body is to be reorganized this week. The Senator will retire from the Senate March 4, when he will be succeeded by Judge Paynter. His plan was to go to Versailles, to take up the Canal Commission at $10,000 a year is so much more attractive that he will accept the offer as soon as it is made.

The Senator has been in public service, that is, in the State Legislature and in Congress for thirty years. The business of his life has been politics and law, and he, therefore, does not pretend to be an expert Canal digger or engineer. But the absence of technical knowledge will not daunt him.

The decision of the President to nominate him a Canal Commissioner is due to the activity of the Senator's colleagues. All the Democrats in the Senate, except Tillman and Bailey, who are not on speaking terms with the President, signed a petition to have him appointed to some Federal office. Quite a number of Republican Senators also spoke to Mr. Roosevelt in his behalf.

Blackburn has been saying nice things about the administration this season. He defended the President's action in the Brownsville case voted to ratify the Santo Domingo treaty and also to keep Senator Reed Smoot, the Mormon apostle in his seat.

There are many Republicans who may not like to see a Democrat given such a remunerative office, but the President won't worry about that.

To stop a cold with "Preventives" is safer than to let it run and cure it afterwards. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventives will head off all colds and Grippe, and perhaps save you from Pneumonia or Bronchitis. Preventives are little toothsome candy cold cure tablets selling in 5 cent and 25 cent boxes. If you are chilly, if you begin sneeze, try Preventives. They will surely check the cold, and please you. Sold by Haynes & Taylor.

CAVE-IN-ROCK

Mrs. Susie Barnerd moved back to this place from Missouri last week. She came up on one of the Lee boats, and while dressing before landing, she laid her purse, containing several hundred dollars, on a shelf in her state-room, and forgot it until the boat was well along towards Shawneetown. Her feelings can better be imagined than told, when headed off the boat by telephone and received the welcome news that her money was safe and would be returned to her on the down trip.

The large mills at Cave-in-Rock mines, was destroyed by fire Saturday night, Feb. 16th. The superintendent acted queer, and had two of our best citizens arrested on Sunday. He had been drinking and did a great deal of incoherent talking. The consensus of opinion seems to be that he is crazy. No one believes that Mr. Frailey and Mr. Hess, the men arrested had any thing to do with it. They will rebuild at once.

A great religious revival conducted by Rev. George H. Hall, the pastor, at the M. E. church, has just closed. Sixty-six professed faith in Christ, among were many old-time sinners.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life

"Don't trifle with a cold," is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of year is the neglected cold. Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by Haynes & Taylor.

Has Increasing Affection.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the famous woman's rights leader, said of an unattractive motion at a woman's club:

"This motion, in its delicacy, reminds me of a Lipson man."

"The man got married, and after he had been married several years his wife said to him one night:

"You do not speak so affectionately to me as you used to. Hal, I fear you have ceased to love me."

"Ceased to love you," growled the man. "There you go again. Ceased to love you! Why, I love you more than life itself. Now shut up and let me read the paper."—New York Tribune.

LIVINGSTON COUNTY NEWS.

(Livingston Echo)

While digging a well in Dr. A. J. Cooper's yard and at a depth of 10 feet head and spar was found, in quality to ore produced by the Fairview mines. It has been pronounced by men of experience to be far superior to any mineral found in the county. It is a rich find and all indications are that the land owned by Cooper, A. B. Chittenden and J. J. Sullivan, abound in rich minerals. A speedy investigation will be made.

CRIDER & WOODS

Snow, Snow, Beautiful Snow.

Snow, snow, beautiful snow -
First you come, and then you go.
When you come, you're nice and white,
But ere you go, you are a sight.
When soft white flakes the clouds are sowing,
We're quite content to see it snowing.
When spotless drifts hide field and road,
We're very glad that it has snowed.
But when the mud gets mixed with you,
We're sorry that it ever snowed.
And when thru shoe-deep slush we go,
We hope it no er again will snow.
Snow, snow, beautiful snow,
First you come, and then you go.
When you come, we like you well,
Where last we wish you I'll not tell.

Snow, Snow, Beautiful Snow.

Snow, snow, beautiful snow,
Although you can not read,
You cover the girl and her beau,
You cover the plant and its seed.
Snow, snow, beautiful snow,
You fall on the land and the sea,
But the old woman will still sew,
You cannot imagine how nice her stitches will be.

Come snow, beautiful snow,
Said one little child to another,
But I know she will say no,
Now let us go ask our mother.

Come snow, beautiful snow,
Remember Jane and Bess,
An angel will take away no,
And tell their mother to answer yes.

Rising From the Grave

A prominent manufacturer, Wm. A. Fertwell, of Lucama, N. C., relates a most remarkable experience. He says: "After taking less than three bottles of Electric Bitters, I feel like one rising from the grave. My trouble is Bright's disease, in the Diabetes stage. I fully believe Electric Bitters will cure me permanently, for it has already stopped the liver and bladder complications which have troubled me for years." Guaranteed at Haynes & Taylor's druggist. Price only 50c.

DEAN'S SCHOOL HOUSE

J. E. Dean and wife attended the Oratorical Contest at Marion Friday night.

Jim Cleghorn had the misfortune to lose a fine mare last week.

Many of our farmers took advantage of the recent pretty weather to sow oats.

Billy Shewmaker is on the sick list.

Homer Morrill, of Marion, will work with A. Dean this summer.

A Well Known Fact

That no skin disease, whether from internal or external origin, can long withstand the two powerful germicides, ZEMO and ZEMOTONE, they destroy the germs that cause the disease, they always cure. Write for sample, E.W. Rose Med. Co., St. Louis. All Druggists sell it.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Both Agreeable and Effective

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no superior for coughs, colds and croup, and the fact that it is pleasant to take and causes nothing to any excruciating has made it a favorite with mothers. Mr. W. S. Pellam, a merchant of Knoxville, Iowa, says: "For more than twenty years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been my leading remedy for all throat troubles. It is especially successful in cases of croup. Children like it and my customers who have used it will not take any other." For sale by J. H. Dine the leading druggist in western Ky.

A MYSTERIOUS CARD.

Mark Twain's Odd Request and How Mrs. Cleveland Received It.

When I was leaving Hartford for Washington upon one occasion my wife said: "I have written a small warning and put it in a pocket of your dress vest. When you are dressing to go to the authors' reception at the White House you will naturally put your fingers in your vest pocket, according to your custom, and you will find that little note there. Read it carefully and do as it tells you. I cannot be with you, and so I delegate my sentry duties to this little note. If I should give you the warning by word of mouth now it would pass from your hand and be forgotten in a few minutes."

It was President Cleveland's first term. I had never seen his wife, the young, the beautiful, the good hearted, the sympathetic, the fascinating. Sure enough, just as I had finished dressing to go to the White House, I found that little note, which I had long ago forgotten. It was a grave little note, a serious little note, like its writer, but it made me laugh. My's gentle grayties often produced that effect upon me where the expert humorist's best joke would have failed, for I do not laugh easily.

When we reached the White House and I was shaking hands with the president he started to say something, but I interrupted him and said:

"If your excellency will excuse me I will come back in a moment, but now I have a very important matter to attend to, and it must be attended to at once."

I turned to Mrs. Cleveland, the young, the beautiful, the fascinating, and gave her my card, on the back of which I had written "He didn't," and I asked her to sign her name below those words.

She said: "He didn't? He didn't what?"

"Oh," I said, "never mind! We cannot stop to discuss that now. This is urgent. Won't you please sign your name?" I handed her a fountain pen.

"Why," she said, "I cannot commit myself in that way. Who is it that didn't? And what is it that he didn't?"

"Oh," I said, "time is flying, flying, flying! Won't you take me out of my distress and sign your name to it? It's all right. I give you my word it's all right."

She looked nonplussed, but hesitatingly and mechanically she took the pen and said:

"I will sign it. I will take the risk. But you must tell me all about it right afterward, so that you can be arrested before you get out of the house in case there should be anything criminal about this."

Then she signed, and I handed her Mrs. Cleveland's note, which was very brief, very simple and to the point. It said: "Don't wear your airties in the White House." It made her shout, and at my request she summoned a messenger, and we sent that card at once to the mail on its way to Mrs. Cleveland in Hartford—Mark Twain's Autobiography in North American Review.

Water In Old London.

London's original water supply, says the Chicago Daily News, was the river Thames, and every apprentice was supplied with a water tankard for transporting liquid to the house. As early as 1479 there were "water thieves," for in this year a wax chandler in Fleet street had been found to have a pipe of the conduit with him, and so conveyed the water into his cellar; wherefore he was hanged to ride through the streets with a conduit upon his back. The last official water supply for London was made in Germany. In 1582 Peter Maurice, a German, made an engine at London bridge by which water was conveyed in lead pipes to the citizens' houses, and he and his descendants became rich on the proceeds.

Christmas Island.

"I spent last Christmas on Christmas Island," said a globe trotter. "In the morning I bathed in the sea and in the afternoon, dressed in white flannel, I played tennis. Christmas Island is in the Indian ocean. It is always summer there. The thermometer never falls below 70 and never rises above 80 in the shade. There's always a cool, pure wind from the southeast. Fresh fruit and flowers and vegetables are as plentiful in January as in July. This little paradise is nine miles long and ten miles wide."

Treating the Insane.

In 1796 William Tuke, a Quaker, opened the first national asylum for the insane in York, England. A few years earlier a Frenchman named Pinel had made a similar effort to restore the mentally deranged to the rank of human beings. Pinel's plan was that of nonrestraint, a system the unheard of and, of course, to be ridiculed as a preposterous everywhere. It is now being followed everywhere.

Her Plan.

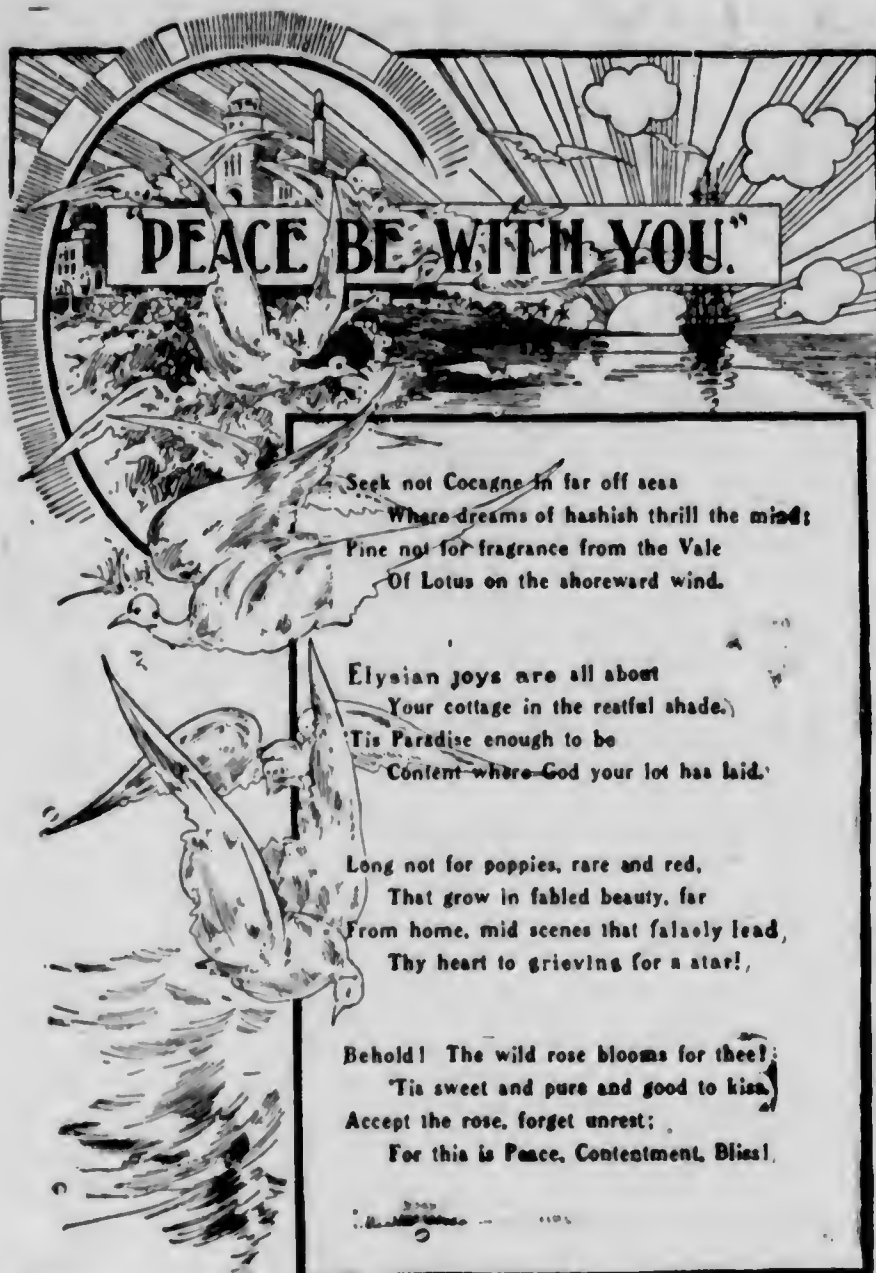

He—Do you believe in long engagements? She—It all depends. He—I don't understand. She—If he has plenty of money and is inclined to be liberal a long engagement is the thing, but if he cannot afford boxes at the opera and such things I always make his regime very short.

Countering a Touch.

"Don't you think you're wasting your time talking the value of economy to Blank? He hasn't any money."

"I know, but I have."—Detroit Free Press.

There are stars so distant that a flying machine moving at the rate of 500 miles an hour would require 500,000,000 years to reach them.

PEACE BE WITH YOU.

Seek not Cocaine in far off seas
Where dreams of hashish thrill the mind;
Fine not for fragrance from the Vale
Of Lotus on the shoreward wind.

Elysian joys are all about
Your cottage in the restful shade,
Tis Paradise enough to be
Content where God your lot has laid.

Long not for poppies, rare and red,
That grow in fabled beauty, far
From home, mid scenes that falsely lead,
Thy heart to grieving for a star!

Behold! The wild rose blooms for thee!
Tis sweet and pure and good to kiss;
Accept the rose, forget unrest;
For this is Peace, Contentment, Bliss!

LOVE HATH ITS VICTORIES

In filmy gown, mid faint perfume,
A robed woman, all in pink,
With blossoms at her snowy throat,
Comes down the stairs—Ah! let me think!
For in love's game more, princess fails;
(The tongue must do its silvery best,
The eye must speak affection true,
And all man is, must be, with zest!

Yours yesterday I bared my heart—
"Give me a day," she softly said;
And dawned came her eyes of blue,
White flushed her cheeks with rosy red.
And when she comes! Ah! I will own
With fervor never yet displayed,
To pierce the demon answer "No!"
But if shall all my hope have fled!

What's this? She seems my edged sword,
And straight advancing, scoffs at fear!
Ye gods of war, I die for love!
For thee! my life, my own, my dear!
But no! She wounds me not at all!
Behold! to me the victress comes!
Her hand upon my breast, she bids
Surrender! I, the prize have won!

Do not Crowd The Season

The first warm days of spring bring with them a temptation to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air. Children that have been huddled all winter are brought out and the winter season they all come home. The heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and mads shed their coats. Then a cold wave comes and pneumonia, that gripsper epidemic, catches at this season are much more dangerous than in midwinter, as there is much more danger of pneumonia. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a child to result in pneumonia, when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to use. Children like it. For sale by J. H. Orme, the leading druggist in western Ky.

Birds and Kites.

No bird, so far as known records show, has ever alighted on a kite or attacked one. While a scientist was flying a train of five kites some years ago a large silver tipped eagle came suddenly out of the higher air and swooped round and round the first kite, looking against the sunset sky like a huge silver ball. As the train of kites was pulled in the eagle followed, visiting one kite and then another, seeming uncertain just what to do. In a few minutes, when he seemed to have decided that they were not good to eat and he knew nothing about them, anyway, he indignantly flew off and was lost to view. While the scientist's kites were high in the air one March flock of geese flying in the wedge flew over. They invariably stopped, broke up, hovered above the queer object and at last slowly reformed and flew away. While the larger birds all come from heights above the kite, the small birds of the air will alight on the string holding the kite and sway to and fro.

Mysterious Glass Balls.

According to a foreign correspondent of the geological survey at Washington, among the most interesting features of the small island of Billiton, between Sumatra and Borneo, an island long famous for its rich tin mines controlled by the Dutch government, are the "glass balls of Billiton," found among the tin ore deposits. These natural glass balls are round, with grooved surfaces. Similar phenomena are occasionally found in Borneo and Java as well as in Australia. The correspondent quoted thinks they cannot be artificial, and there are no volcanoes near enough to support the theory that they are volcanic bombs. Besides, it is claimed, the glassy rocks produced by the nearest volcanoes are quite different in their nature from the material of the balls. It is suspected that the mysterious objects were ejected ages ago from the volcanoes of the moon and afterward fell upon the earth.

"Caracul"—Its Etymology.

I have often been asked for the etymology of "caracul," which is a term now largely used by furriers to denote a variety of the fur called astrakhan. The new English dictionary does not contain caracul, but it has caracul, which is liable to be confused with it, though really quite a different word. The caracul is an animal, but caracul, like the nearly synonymous term, astrakhan, is the name of a place—Kara Kul—i. e., the Black lake, near Bokhara, which has long been celebrated for its output of furs. The earliest reference I can find to it in English is in Matthew Arnold's "Sohrab and Rustum."

And on his head he set his sheepskin cap, Black glossy, curled, the fleece of Kara Kul.

Living In the Electric Light.

Writing to a friend in the country, a New York merchant says: "I live in the electric light. I leave my home at 7 o'clock, after dressing and taking my breakfast by electric light. Then I go to the subway, one block distant, and ride to within a block of my office. There I work all day by electric light and go home again by the subway and spend the evening in the glare of the incandescent lamp. The weather conditions make no difference, because my fat and my office belong to the semidark kind. Sometimes I wonder what I would do without electric light, and sometimes I ask myself when I yearn for a little sunlight, is the new light really a blessing?"—New York Tribune.

John Stuart Mill.

The genius of this great Englishman was such that before he was twenty he was recognized as the champion and future leader of a powerful school of philosophy and politics. John Stuart Mill is said to have studied Greek at the age of three and at fourteen had begun logic and political economy. The writings and doctrines of this master mind were and are still read and preached not only in this country, but throughout the world. John Stuart Mill stands out prominently among nineteenth century thinkers.—London Mail.

Hardened.

"Listen to this, Maria," said Mr. Stubbs as he unfolded his scientific paper. "This article states that in some of the old Roman prisons that have been unearthed they found the petrified remains of the prisoners." "Gracious, John!" replied Mrs. Stubbs, with a smile. "I suppose you would call them hardened criminals."—Chicago News.

But He Was Cured.

"I think I'll have to take treatment for the forgetting habit. From whom did you take your treatment that was so satisfactory and successful in improving your memory?" "From—ah, from—ah—oh, I forget his name, but wait a minute, and I'll get one of his cards out of my desk."—Exchange.

Supremely Exasperating. "Don't you think Mrs. Spurrell has an awful temper?" "She has, but can you blame the poor woman? She has a husband who just absolutely won't get mad at all."

Dear, Indeed!

"The dear, dear girls!" exclaimed Mrs. Pawkins, looking at her fashionable daughters enthusiastically. "Yes; the dear, dear girls!" muttered Mr. Pawkins despondently.

Man yields to custom as he bows to fate—in all things ruled, mind, body and estate.—Crabbe.

The Cost of Newspapers.

How newspapers are to exist at their present subscription rate and their present low rates for advertising is more than we can see and yet every step taken from the head of the postoffice department to the city council is being made to reduce the prices of work to be done by the newspapers.

The white paper alone on which many papers are printed, costs more than is paid by the purchaser for the printed edition. The cost of white paper has been advancing for years. Printing ink never cost more than at the present time and wages were never higher; yet the price of the output has been retained. The newspapers of the country in their columns seems to point out everything in the news line pertaining to the formation of trust, in oil, sugar, paper, coal, steel and almost every commodity in general use, but they entirely overlook the fact that they could and should point with great interest to the fact that newspapers are supplying the public with the news of the world and under a greater expense of production than at any time previous while the comparative cost of advertising has not been increased. The newspapers have been in the front rank in the development of American civilization today they give more to the purchaser for the investment than it is possible to receive in any other channel of expenditure.

Any thoughtful person, who will carefully consider the increased publication cost of newspapers and the vast amount of information and pleasure the people derive from them at old time prices, will agree with us that the postage on them as well as on letters, should be reduced.—Mayfield Messenger.

Clears The Complexion.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup stimulates the liver and thoroughly cleanses the system and clears the complexion of pimples and blotches. It is the best laxative for women and children as it is mild and pleasant and does not gripe or sicken. Orino's much superior to pills, aperient waters and all ordinary cathartics as it does not irritate the stomach and bowels. J. H. Orme.

Piles get quick relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Remember its made alone for piles—and its works with certainty and satisfaction. Itching, painful protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Try it and see. Haynes & Taylor.

Municipal Newspaper.

Dresden is one of the few cities possessing a municipal newspaper, and this was bequeathed to the city by the late Dr. Gunt. The bequest is a very valuable property, and consists of a daily newspaper, which, in consequence of its extensive circulation, is the principal advertising medium in the neighborhood. The profits are applied to the beautifying and improvement of the city and to charity.

A Valuable Lesson

"Six years ago I learned a valuable lesson," writes John Pleasant, of Magnolia, Ind. "I then began taking Dr. King's New Life Pills, and the longer I take them the better I find them." They please everybody. Guaranteed at Haynes & Taylor, druggist 25c.

Always cook fish well, for it is not only unpalatable, but unwholesome, when underdone, and it should always be served hot for invalids.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against Opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Haynes & Taylor.

No Need.

"I wish, Jane," said the fond mother to her new nurse, "that you would use a thermometer to ascertain if the water is the right temperature when you give baby his bath."

"Oh," replied Jane, cheerfully, "don't worry about that. I don't need any thermometer. If the little 'un turns red, the water is too hot; if it turns blue, it's too cold, and there you are."—LIFE.

Safe, Sure and Speedy.

No external remedy ever yet devised has so fully and unquestionably met these three prime conditions as successful as Alcock's Plasters. They are safe because they contain no deleterious drug and are manufactured upon scientific principles of medicine. They are sure because nothing goes into them except ingredients which are exactly adapted to the purposes for which a plaster is required. They are speedy in their action because their medicinal qualities goes right to their work relieving pain and restoring the natural and healthy performance of functions of muscles, nerves and skin.

Alcock's Plaster are the original and genuine porous plasters and like most meritorious articles have been extensively imitated, therefore always make sure and get the genuine Alcock's.

Abbreviations Unwholesome.

Speaking at Carlsale, the bishop of that city said he was against abbreviations on principle. "At Birmingham recently there was a considerable proportion of the people so busy that they could not spare the time when speaking about the year to say nineteen hundred and one, but articulated sharply, nineteen one. I am persuaded abbreviations have an unwholesome effect on men's minds."

Not To Be Tempted by Wealth.

"I see," said the poet's wife, "that laborers who work in the tunnels they are digging under the rivers at New York get $7 a day."

"Well," he replied, "you needn't throw out any hints. I'm not going to waste my talent in a tunnel, even though it is necessary for us to go along on $9.50 a week. Mere wealth cannot tempt me to ignore the debt which I owe to posterity."

DeWitt's Little Early Risers scatter the gloom of sick-headach and biliousness. Sold by J. H. Orme.

The New Tonz.

"It is wonderful how the automobile craze has spread in the past three years," said the one night stand actor to the man in the car sent beside him.

"Guess it has," said the man. "Yes, indeed," the actor resumed. "I was playing in a western town the other night and had the misfortune to forget my lines. As I stood there hemming and hawing the entire audience arose as one man and joyfully yelled, 'Stalled.' Two years ago when I broke down there in an exactly similar manner the very same audience got right up and shouted, 'Stuck.'"

Caution

Imitations have been placed upon the market so closely resembling Allcock's Plasters in general appearance as to be well calculated to deceive. It is, however, in general appearance only that they compare with Allcock's, for they are not only lacking in the best elements which have made Allcock's so efficient, but are often harmful in their effects. Remember that Allcock's are the original and only genuine porous plasters—the best external remedy known—and when purchasing plasters the only safe way is to always insist upon having Allcock's.

Have used it for years. It does the work." J. H. Orme.

KODOL digests what you eat and quickly overcomes indigestion, which is a forerunner of Dyspepsia. It is made in strict conformity to the National Pure Food and Drugs Law and is sold on a guarantee relief plan. Sold by J. H. Orme.

The News No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poisons enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison-marks on Dr. Shoop's labels, and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with our children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison-marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simple refuse to accept any other. Sold by Haynes & Taylor.
